

A Call Within A Call: "All Politics is Local"

by Parasram (Paras) Ramoutar and Winston Dookeran

This autobiography contains an account of Parasram (Paras) Ramoutar's experiences as an international journalist, communications specialist and community activist. Filled with fertile deposits of universal morals and values, anecdotes and lessons accumulated over a lifetime, this book provides instructive insights for aspiring and established professionals, beginning with Paras' work and flowing into his humble beginnings before surging into the realm of accolades.

This practical account is saturated with Paras' knowledge on

- communication
- relationship building and networking
- activism
- diplomacy
- and much more to help you achieve success.

Parasram (Paras) Ramoutar is a Trinidadian journalist with outstanding contributions in politics, community activism, religion and culture, particularly Indo-Caribbean culture. "Paras" received the Humming Bird National Award for Community Service (2002) and the Rotary's Paul Harris International Fellow award (2016).