

THE TIME HAS COME TO FORGE A NEW BEGINNING OF PEACE AND PROGRESS FOR GUYANA.

Yes! The time has come with a sense of urgency to forge a new beginning
A time to heal old wounds and rekindle our hopes for a better tomorrow and future for ALL Guyanese
Indeed, we have toiled and suffered under the yokes of our colonial masters, as one people yearning for freedom
An elusive freedom that is yet again hijacked by self-serving tyrants and vicious strife masters.

Integral, competent and transparent governance is our only hope to unshackle our political and racial serfdom

This time, by duplicitous pretenders caught in the web of unbridled greed and shameless deceptive corruption

No doubt, we are all inextricably linked and forever beholden in this blessed land of many waters and abundant natural resources

For, we are inherently, a caring, talented, resourceful and industriously ambitious people

Let us shed our fears and distrust of each other to build a nation worthy of our collective aspirations and potential

Time and circumstance has brought us together. We cannot turn the clock back now. A new dawn awaits us.

Let us appreciate the tapestry of our six races and the symbiotic culture and traditions that are now, uniquely ours

Surely we all have equal entitlements befitting our sacrifices and contributions from the reservoir of our nation's riches

Let us not squander the legacy of our forebears and deny the new generations their rights for a better tomorrow

We respect and cherish our democratic freedoms, let us not deny the children of tomorrow this sacred privilege

As one people, we are our brother's keeper and must unite under one banner to defend the values that are dear to us

Let us not allow bigotry and toxic racial sentiments to debase our better judgement and fuel unjustified hatred and distrust

We can be the torch-bearers for positive changes and build the foundation for progress and peaceful coexistence

We owe this, not only to ourselves, but to the future of all the children of Guyana, born and unborn, of tomorrow

Yes! the time has now come for collaborative UNITY in order to regain our moral compass and sense of belonging

Peace, harmony and progress is the only way forward for all the people of our beloved Guyana.

Race and colour is skin deep, our common humanity embrace the one GOD that transcend all this.

Go forward, we must, as one People, one Nation and one Destiny under the shield of our democratic heritage.
